2025 CONFERENCE THEME

The WABE (wah-bee) Media & Entertainment Technology Conference is the Canadian home to media industry professionals, educators, and enthusiasts alike. We are an inclusive community connecting everyone from home podcasters to enterprise media manufacturers.

BRIDGING THE PAST, BUILDING MEDIA'S FUTURE

This year's theme reflects the media industry's unique crossroads. The rapid acceleration of technology has unlocked extraordinary opportunities—through AI, immersive experiences, and advanced analytics. Yet, despite these advances, we remain tethered to legacy ideas and continue to face familiar challenges.

This theme invites us to unite as creators, technologists, and broadcasters to bridge the gap between tradition and innovation. Together, we can build a future-ready media ecosystem that honors our past while embracing the transformative possibilities of tomorrow.

As an exhibitor or sponsor, you play a pivotal role in this conversation, showcasing solutions that address today's challenges and help shape the future of media.

LOCATION

As we celebrate WABE's 75th anniversary, we return to Calgary, Alberta.

This year, the Calgary Telus Convention Center hosts the WABE Media and Entertainment Technology Conference, in the heart of downtown Calgary. This location provides an exceptional venue for professional gatherings in the heart of downtown Calgary. Its prime location makes it an ideal hub for meetings, conferences, and connecting media technology professionals. The surrounding area offers a dynamic mix of dining, entertainment, and networking opportunities, enhancing the experience for all attendees.

Group Rates & Travel Discounts are available at wabe.ca.

Join us as we honor 75 years of industry excellence and explore the future of media and entertainment technology.

THE REGIONAL DIFFERENCE

The WABE Media & Entertainment Technology Conference blends global innovation with local insight, shaped by the diversity, creativity, and resilience that define Canada. It celebrates Canada's distinct voice in media, where local challenges meet world-class solutions, and our stories shine globally.

Here, your message won't fade in the noise of larger conferences—it commands attention from industry professionals eager to explore new ideas. WABE is more than an event; it's a vibrant community fostering collaboration and providing a platform for industry experts to showcase their work.

With over 2,100 LinkedIn connections and a growing industry presence, WABE continues to expand its network. Last year, our Edmonton convention welcomed over 400 attendees, highlighting our increasing impact. As we gear up for another exciting event, we remain committed to uniting professionals—from operational staff to decision-makers—who share a passion for media, broadcast, and entertainment technology.

PROGRAM

Bridging the Past, Building Media's Future:
Lessons from Legacy Broadcast for Digital Content Distribution

The evolution of digital distribution presents new technical challenges, but many mirror those already solved in traditional broadcast. Issues like scalability, latency, content protection, and monetization require robust, field-proven solutions adapted for streaming, OTT, and emerging platforms.

These sessions aim to explore how broadcast engineering principles can enhance efficiency, reliability, and audience reach with real world implementations.

Join the conversation and discover how we can bridge legacy expertise with future innovation to shape the next era of media.
